Hiring Management -

Thank you for taking the time to review my qualifications. I have one year of basic accounting experience, a global top 1% university graduate degree from UMGC with a MS in Accounting and IT and am a American Institute of Certified Public Accountants CPA candidate. Other notable experience includes 9 years of customer service and sales experience establishing organizational, communications and interpersonal skills. I am also Ivy League global top 1% certified by Cornell in Innovation Strategies, Technology Leadership, and Digital Transformation (i.e. digital disruption and business model innovation) at the Executive level (bachelors or higher). I am certified by a global top 1% university in general, leadership and communications soft skills by RIT, which has been established with experiential learning with the American Bar Association impacting my decision making, teamwork, creative and critical thinking and communications development.

I currently maintain a CPA Candidacy, which has been through DeVry for CPA Bootcamp & Review and has brought out the absolute best in me. I have learned how to accept failure, re-engineer it with excellence and advance it onto a superior product or service. I have persevered with my candidacy to maintain a higher caliber professional attitude coupled with a balanced life that is healthy and fun. I have utilized the principles of the AICPA to become a part of my community that makes an impact and builds a better society for my country. I have learned to develop resources, assets and processes for best practice to achieve my goals with my team and network. I strive to win and become the best as a future CPA.

I currently maintain a year of accounting experience from internship, volunteer, and seasonal work. It consists of budgeting work with the General Motors Marketing internship program, bookkeeping work with a local mental health and dry club called Sahara Club II in Warren, OH and digital assurance work with Marcum Technology consisting of data cleansing, bitcoin mining cataloging and client intake duties respectively.

I am currently seeking my first solid position for entry level work after putting together a year of experience in basic accounting. It would be a great experience for me to obtain my first role as a CPA Candidate. I am energized, enthusiastic and ready to conquer challenges to fulfill expectations for the position and learn new responsibilities, technology and begin to build a career,

I also have provided supporting documentation with in-depth insight into my certification accomplishments, volunteer work, professional memberships, and references. If you have any questions about my path forward as a professional, please get in touch. Thank you!!

Sincerely,

Jeffrey Semon
